

Marios N. Kyriacou
Risk Manager

chasebuchanan.com

Dr Marios Kyriacou has 20 years of experience in the banking and financial services sector. He consults regularly for central banks, credit institutions, investment firms and investment funds as well as electronic money and payment institutions with regards to their optimal structure and set-up, licensing, and regulatory compliance.

Recently he completed a large-scale engagement with the Central Bank of UAE for the implementation of Basel 3 (latest BIS standards) for the country's banking sector. He is an expert in treasury risk management, counterparty credit risk measurement, operational risk management, capital adequacy, stress testing, and risk-based internal audit.

Dr Kyriacou was previously the Head of Risk Management with Piraeus Bank for nearly eight years. He worked for another eight years in the City of London as Risk Manager with BNP Paribas.

Dr Kyriacou has a Ph.D. and M.Phil. (Distinction) from Cambridge University on a full scholarship and a B.Sc. (First Class, Honours) from Warwick University, he is a Chartered Statistician awarded by the UK Royal Statistical Society. He is a member of several professional associations, speaker at international risk events and the author of risk management articles published in professional and academic journals. He is currently appointed as a non-Executive Board member in regulated listed and non-listed financial entities, and lectures risk management topics to M.Sc. Finance and MBA students at the University of Cyprus.

Chase Buchanan

PRIVATE WEALTH MANAGEMENT